PHANTOM 62

by Caroline Clarke

Phantom 62m MY is the brand new sport yacht project developed by Enrico Gobbi - TeamForDesign for the Italian shipyard Rossinavi.

Performance and luxury come together in this amazing yacht which oozes sportiveness and dynamism.

The design of this large and unique sportsyacht shows a well balanced and pure exterior, with sleek, strong lines and a slender silhouette. Continuous window surfaces, typical of Gobbi's designs, characterize its profile and ensure breathtaking panoramic views from all main interior areas. It's worth to mention an exclusive feature of the master suite, that is a panoramic balcony (on both sides of the owner's private lounge) with wide floor to ceiling windows for a full height overlook of the sea also from inside the suite.

Despite its sleek volume, Phantom 62 embodies an impressively spacious interior layout.

Moving outside, the most stunning detail that captures the eye is its scenic and sporty stern with a central openable platform and a panoramic enclosed pool that is for sure the first "wow" feature of this yacht.

INSPIRATIONS

As to the inspiring mood that moved the hand of the designer towards the creation of this project, the external lines of Phantom 62 come from the aviation world with its typical fluid and dynamic lines. The project is particularly inspired by the supersonic aircraft developed by McDonnell Douglas in 1960, the fighter bomber F-4 Phantom.

Phantom 62 exterior areas have been designed to offer various configurations among which a spacious lounge on the cockpit equipped with a bar, sitting area and a large sunpad connected to the lower whirlpool area.

On the upper deck cockpit finds place and a more formal sofa area along with an exterior dining. The forward sun area with sofas and sun pads is enclosed in the superstructure and offers a private lounge area for all guests. Up forward there is also a landing area for a touch and go helicopter.

As to the fly deck, this appears as an exclusive and very long sun terrace protected on its two sides by the yacht's sports rollbar that enclose also a private day head/shower.

Phantom 62 sport yacht is a ready-to-build project among the largest of its category; it is not only visually stunning, it is an intriguing cocktail of top performance and stylish luxury with a modern design that makes its exterior and interior ambients leisurely inviting.
